Key Titles

Hardie Grant
CHILDREN’S PUBLISHING
Big Magic
Sarah Armstrong

When a circus trick goes horribly wrong and star magician Merry disappears in front of her daughter, Tulsi, everyone believes Merry’s gone forever. But then 11-year-old Tulsi discovers one tiny, impossible sliver of hope for bringing her mother back: If Tulsi learns enough Big Magic before the next full moon, she just might be able to rescue Merry by travelling to a parallel universe – a world where Tulsi has never been born, and which holds the key to saving their circus.

There are reasons it’s all but impossible: It can take a lifetime to learn Big Magic. Tulsi has never done any magic at all. And the only person who can teach her is her estranged grandmother, Sylvie – a strange, unlikeable woman who was banned for fifteen years from doing Big Magic herself …

Author Details
Sarah Armstrong was an award-winning journalist at the ABC before writing three novels for adults, including Salt Rain which was shortlisted for the Miles Franklin Award. Big Magic is her first book for children. She lives with her partner, Alan, and their daughter, Amelia, in the NSW town of Mullumbimby, which features (if slightly disguised!) in all her novels, including Big Magic.

Key Information
• Strong female characters take centre stage in this fantasy-adventure story, which features a unique blend of circus life, parallel worlds and magic!
• Universal themes such as growing up and discovering who you really are make this a relatable read for ages 9+.
• Explores complex intergenerational relationships and ‘found family’ with a lovely lightness of touch.
• A diverse cast and strong world-building round out this gripping read.
• Perfect for fans of Diana Wynne Jones and Jessica Townsend.
PACK!

50% discount

GTIN: 9349685018506

Includes:
12 copies of Big Magic
1 Big Magic poster

AU RRP with discount $107.94
NZ RRP with discount $119.94

INDICATIVE IMAGERY
Real Pigeons Duck Trouble (#9)
Andrew McDonald
Ben Wood

Ever wonder why pigeons always act so weird? It’s because they’re out there chasing the bad guys and saving your butts!

The Real Pigeons are amazing crime-fighters. So when they team up with some HUMAN SECRET AGENTS they think they’ll be unbeatable! But then a strange MUTANT goes on a rampage. POCKETS start mysteriously vanishing from pants and jackets. And someone raises a terrifying army of ZOMPIGEONS. Worst of all – the agents have a SECRET of their own. And it's going to get our heroes into terrible TROUBLE … the kind they can't easily DUCK!

Author Details
Andrew McDonald is the author of the bestselling Real Pigeons junior fiction series. He loves writing stories that make kids laugh, wonder and leap into the air with surprise. His books have been shortlisted for the Readings Children’s Book Prize and the Australian Book Industry Awards. Andrew is a regular presenter on the schools circuit, where he conducts writing workshops, talks about his life as an author and inspires kids to read, write, draw and be creative. Andrew lives in Melbourne, Australia.

Ben Wood is the illustrator of the bestselling Real Pigeons junior fiction series. Drawn to stories with humour and heart, Ben has illustrated over 30 books for children. His lively illustrations reflect his love for graphic novels and animation, and really pack a (pigeon) punch in the Real Pigeons series. Ben’s books have been included on the Children’s Book Council of Australia’s Notables’ lists, and shortlisted for the Readings Children’s Book Prize and the Australian Book Industry Awards. When not in the studio, Ben speaks in schools and runs workshops about illustration. He lives in Victoria, Australia.

Key Information
- Book #9 of the hilarious Real Pigeons series: highly illustrated, perfectly plotted mysteries for reader 6-10.
- A groundbreaking blend of the comic format and chapter books, catering to all reading levels and laugh-out-loud funny enough to be enjoyed by the whole family.
- Nickelodeon is developing an animated movie and TV series based on Real Pigeons Fight Crime, to be produced by James Corden and Ben Winston!
- Real Pigeons Fight Crime was shortlisted for the 2019 Readings Children’s Book Prize and the 2019 ABIA Book of the Year for Younger Children. Real Pigeons Nest Hard was shortlisted for the 2020 ABIA Book of the Year for Younger Children.
- Real Pigeons Fight Crime is now available in over 10 territories including North America where it was recently released by Random House Children’s Books.
- Over 200,000 books in print!
Duck Trouble Pack!

52.5% discount

GTIN: 9349685018520

Includes:
- 12 copies of Real Pigeons Duck Trouble
- 1 copy from each of the backlist (8 Books)
- 1 Pack of 30 Bag Tags
- 1 Shelf Wobbler

AU RRP with discount $151.91
NZ RRP with discount $170.91

INDICATIVE IMAGERY

PLUS THE BACKLIST!
Dream Big, Little One

Becky Davies

Dana Brown

Close your sleepy eyes and whisper, "Goodnight," to the sun. The magic of this night is yours. Dream big, my little one. A beautiful bedtime book to inspire your little one.

Author Details

Becky is a children's book editor and sometimes author from the South West of England. Her favourite things are animals, books about magic, and anything sparkly. In a parallel universe she lives in Hawaii, where she works in a dog sanctuary and surfs until the sun sets beyond the horizon. About the Illustrator Dana Brown is a picture book designer and illustrator, currently residing in Sydney Australia. Hand-lettered typography, cover designs and spine illustration are her particular creative specialities. When she's not working, Dana loves Vinyasa and Dharma yoga, meeting dogs of any description, and drinking wine in Southern Africa.

Key Information

• This book is printed using a shimmering silver pantone, combined with a rich and limited palette for a striking effect.
• An inspiring and uplifting rhyme about dreaming big and reaching for the stars.
• The ideal gift for many occasions, including christenings, birthdays and to celebrate a new baby.
You’ll SOAR through life’s adventures...
And know how

Proud

I'll always be.
You are my DREAM
come true.
Dream of bright tomorrows, of what each new day will bring.
All Wrapped Up: Disney
A Wrapping Paper Book
Disney Classic

All Wrapped Up: Disney showcases the iconic artwork of Walt Disney Animation Studios. Featuring nostalgic artwork from the beloved worlds of Winnie-the-Pooh, Pinocchio, Alice in Wonderland, Bambi, Peter Pan, Cinderella, Snow White and Dumbo.

Love the pattern? Rip it out and wrap something up! Includes 20 gift wrapping sheets and gift stickers.

Key Information

• All Wrapped Up is a series of gorgeous stationery books. A gift in itself, this stunning gift-wrapping collection will take your gifting to the next level.
• The perfect gift for any Disney fan, young and young-at-heart alike! Patterns span from sophisticated to sweet, kid-friendly to luxe.
• Disney celebrates 100 years in 2023. Join in on the celebrations early!
• Includes 20 sheets of full-colour gift wrap (694mm x 504mm) and asheetof full colour stickers.
We Are The Resistance
Star Wars

The Resistance protects the galaxy from the First Order, from the hottest deserts to the coldest reaches of space. Bravery, loyalty and kindness are their most powerful weapons.

Join Rey, Finn, Poe Dameron, General Leia, Chewbacca, BB-8 and more as they save the galaxy! An adventure for Star Wars fans of all ages.

Key Information

• Featuring stunning retro-style illustrations and a luxesilver foil cover!
• Celebrate May the 4th with a storybook for Star Wars fans of all ages!
• The beloved Star Wars universe continues to expand on Disney+, with the hotly-anticipated third season of The Mandalorian premiering in early 2022, The Book of Boba Fett in late 2021, and Obi-Wan Kenobi in 2022.
The First Order is a powerful army. They destroyed the good and just Republic and took control of the whole galaxy.

Sometimes the Resistance must fight with weapons...
... but they also fight with their words and actions. They show others how to stand up for what is right.

Finn was a stormtrooper who chose to leave the First Order and help Resistance pilot Poe, even though it was the only life he had ever known.

And the scavenger Rey helped the lost droid BB-8 complete his mission for the Resistance.
The Resistance strives to protect the galaxy. From the hottest deserts …

… to the coldest reaches of space.
Picture Books

Hardie Grant

CHILDREN'S PUBLISHING
My Two Blankets
English and Dari edition
Irena Kobald
Freya Blackwood

My Two Blankets resonates in a special way with people who are seeking asylum. It is a story of the pain associated with being dislocated from home and the familiar. But also of friendship, hope and new beginnings.

This bilingual edition of My Two Blankets will encourage parents to read with their children by allowing them to draw on both English and their home language, conferring value on both. And in that way, support both parents and children towards the lifelong assets of literacy and multilingualism.

Hardie Grant Children's Publishing will donate $2 from the original sale of this new hardback Dari/English edition to Australia for UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency's national partner, to support its global humanitarian operations of displaced people.

Author Details
Irena Kobald is a multi-lingual Austrian immigrant to Australia, who teaches aboriginal children in Australian outback communities (the closest shop is 250 kms away!). She has a Master’s degree in Russian.

Freya Blackwood was born in Edinburgh and grew up in Australia, where she now lives with her daughter Ivy. She began illustrating picture books in 2002 and has since been shortlisted for, and won many prestigious awards, including the Kate Greenaway Medal in 2010 for Harry and Hopper.

Key Information
- A bilingual collaboration with the Asylum Seekers Resource Centre (ASRC) and the Readings Foundation.
- This edition includes one of the top three languages spoken by people seeking asylum who are members of the ASRC.
- This story is for all who have experienced change. It is about learning new ways of speaking, new ways of living, new ways of being.
- This beautiful and poignant tale is exquisitely brought to life by award-winning illustrator Freya Blackwood.
- My Two Blankets has been selected as one of ten picture books in the IFLA World Through Picture Books 3rd Edition (2022).
My Two Blankets
English and Dari edition

The Dari/English translation of this beautiful story is a collaboration between the Asylum Seeker Resource Centre (ASRC) in Melbourne, the Readings Foundation, publisher Hardie Grant Children’s Publishing and the author and illustrator. Dari was chosen as a language because it is an important community language in Australia and among the top three languages spoken by people seeking asylum who are members of the ASRC.

The translation was created by multi-lingual members of the ASRC, who worked with a professional translator in a workshop setting; a process that also assisted their English language learning, and provided insight into possible career paths in translating and interpreting.
The next time I saw the girl, she brought some words for me.

She made me say them over and over.

The next time I saw the girl, she brought some words for me.

She made me say them over and over.
Every time I met the girl,
she brought more words.
Some of the words were hard.
Some of them were easy.

Sometimes I sounded funny
and we laughed.
Sometimes I felt silly
and I wanted to cry.
At night, when I lay in bed under my old blanket, I whispered the new words again and again. Soon they didn’t sound so cold and sharp any more. They started to sound warm and soft. I was weaving a new blanket.

 شب که زیر لحاف سابقه خود میرفتم،
کلمات نوا بارها و بارها زیرلب میگفتم.

بسیار زود آن کلمات دیگر
سرد و ناپدید بودند.
آنها کم نرم و اشنا شدند.
من یک لحاف جدید می‌بافتم.
The Wind May Blow
Thomas Hegbrook and Sasha Quinton

Life doesn't always go smoothly. Sometimes, the wind may blow, but remember: you can do hard things.

This gorgeous picture book puts into words every parent’s wish for their child as they face life’s challenges. With peek-through pages and a gentle, lyrical text, this is a book to share and treasure.

Author Details
Thomas Hegbrook is a nature lover with a talent for illustration and design. When he’s not creating beautiful books, he likes to spend time with his wife and son and their two dogs.

Sasha Quinton is the author of more than 30 books for children. She lives in the lovely seaside town of Rowayton, Connecticut with her son Sawyer.

Key Information
- Encourages children to have confidence.
- Beautiful illustrations in sensitive watercolour.
- Includes die-cuts!
- Lyrical text gently reinforces ideas of self-belief.
- Perfect for parents to read with their little ones.
the sun rose
and kissed your toes

as warm roses bloomed in each cheek.
You can do hard things and even if the waves crash...
know the moon will burn much brighter for you.
And in the morning the sun will rise again and so will you.
Sky
Holly Webb

Staying with her grandparents in the Scottish Highlands, Lara is fascinated by the rare white snowy owl her grandad has spotted flying nearby. And when she follows the beautiful bird into the woods, it leads her on a magical adventure… Transported a century back in time, Lara befriends Amelia, who confides in Lara about her cruel cousin, who she’s sure is trying to hurt the baby owls nesting in the woods. When Lara discovers the hatchlings belong to her owl, Sky, she’s determined to help. But how can she protect them when she needs to return to her own time?

An enchanting and magical time-slip adventure from best-selling author Holly Webb. For fans of Michael Morpurgo and The Snow Foal, this is the perfect book to curl up with and enjoy this winter.

Author Details
Holly Webb is one of Britain's best-loved children's writers. She has written over a hundred books for children and her work has been translated into over thirty languages. Holly lives in Tilehurst, just outside of Reading, Berkshire, with her husband, three children and several cats. Visit www.holly-webb.com or @HollyKateWebb.

Key Information
• An enchanting wintry tale that will make the perfect Christmas gift for fans of Holly Webb.
• Stunning cover from award-winning illustrator Britta Teckentrup.
• Praise forFROST: “A heart-melting and evocative winter tale full of Webb's beautiful storytelling ... imbued with a special seasonal warmth” – The Lancashire Evening Post.
The Secret Wreck
Linda Chapman
Mirelle Ortega

Welcome to Mermaids Rock! The entrance to the mermaid realm in the deep, blue ocean...

On a trip to the Red Sea, Kai and his friends explore an impressive shipwreck. Kai is intrigued by the human artefacts they find there but Coralie is worried about being discovered. Her fears become reality when a group of divers arrive. Will the friends be able to get back to Mermaids Rock without getting caught?

The sixth book in an exciting series about the wonders of the ocean, perfect for fans of Rainbow Magic, Unicorn Academy and Holly Webb.

Author Details
Linda Chapman is the best-selling author of over 200 books for 5–14 year olds. Her series include My Secret Unicorn and Star Friends, among many others. She lives in Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire. Visit lindachapmanauthor.co.uk

Mirelle is a Mexican illustrator, storyteller and concept artist. She often draws inspiration from Latin American cultures, constantly mixing the whimsical and the ordinary in colourful compositions that are both bold and vibrant. Visit www.mirelleortega.com

Key Information
• Combining friendship and environmental awareness in a magical ocean setting.
• Bringing ecological issues and respect for the planet to life through fiction.
• Featuring appealing ocean creatures alongside the mermaid friends.
• For fans of Rainbow Magic, Barbie Dolphin Magic and Holly Webb.
• Linda Chapman is the author of the hugely popular My Secret Unicorn and Star Friends series and has written for RainbowMagic and Secret Kingdom. She also ghost-writes celebrity children’s fiction.
With an angry snap of its jaws, the shark pivoted round. The sudden spinning movement loosened Coralie and Marina’s grip and, with a flick of its muscular tail, the shark flung them away as if they weighed no more than shrimps. Then it turned back to Luna.

Coralie righted herself and saw the shark bearing down on her cousin again. It was going to get her! “Luna!” she screamed.

Suddenly an enormous shape loomed out of the blue water. It was at least six times bigger than the shark. The creature had a dark grey back, a pale spotted belly and long pectoral fins that dangled underneath it. Its large knobbly head rammed into the shark’s side, sending it flying through the water.

“A humpback whale!” Marina exhaled loudly as the shark shook itself, glared at the young whale and then swam away.

“They’re… They’re usually friendly, aren’t they?” stammered Coralie as the creature swam up to Luna.

“This one is!” cried Luna, swimming forward and hugging its fin. “This is Wally, everyone!” The others watched in astonishment as the whale gently patted her back with its other fin. Its eyes were kind and gentle.

“Is that the whale your mum helped, Luna?” called Naya.

“Yes,” said Luna, gently touching a scar on the creature’s side. “He must have recognized me and come to help. Thank you, Wally!”
The whale opened his mouth and made a gentle singing sound. Luna hummed back and Wally sighed deeply. Coralie felt relief wash over her. Thank goodness for the whale! And thank goodness for Marina, she thought, glancing at her friend. If they hadn’t worked as a team, the shark might have reached Luna before Wally could come to the rescue. She shot a grateful smile at Marina, but Marina didn’t meet her gaze.

“Wally, these are my friends,” said Luna, beckoning everyone over. Coralie grinned as she approached. “Hi, Wally, it’s whaley nice to meet you!” Naya groaned. “What? I’m only giving him a nice whale-come!” said Coralie with a giggle. She automatically dodged away from Marina who usually flicked her with her tail when she made silly jokes. But Marina didn’t even roll her eyes. Coralie was surprised. Was Marina still upset because of their argument?

The whale made a curious questioning sound, tilting its head slightly to one side as he looked at them. “You’re asking why we’re here in the Red Sea, Wally?” Luna guessed. “It’s because we want to explore a shipwreck. We want to find out more about humans.” Wally nodded for a moment and then slowly started to swim away.
“Thank you so much for bringing us here, Wally,” called Luna.

Wally waved a fin at them and drifted away into the blue, his whale song echoing back.

“The wreck is almost like a mini coral reef,” said Marina, swimming closer.

“The sea’s transforming it,” said Naya softly. “Turning it from a place where humans used to live to a place where sea creatures can live now.”

“Let’s explore but we should all stay together,” said Marina.

Coralie nodded. She’d learned her lesson earlier. “Yes, we should do what Marina says.”

Marina shot her a hurt look. Coralie’s eyes widened as she realized Marina must have thought she was being sarcastic. “No, Marina, I meant it!” Coralie started to protest, but Marina was already swimming away with Naya, heading up the metal side of the hull towards the railing. Coralie sighed.
Non Fiction

Hardie Grant

CHILDREN’S PUBLISHING
Build
Isabel Otter and Pau Morgan

The animals are ready to BUILD!
Learn all about creatures that build their own homes, and use the peek-through holes to uncover their amazing creations.

Author Details
Isabel Otter is a children’s book editor and writer. She grew up in rural Herefordshire and is happiest climbing mountains in muddy boots. Isabel loves weaving stories and writing about the world around her.

Pau is an illustrator and designer based in Chile. She enjoys reading children’s books, cooking, knitting, cycling and drinking tea. After working as an art director for ten years, Pau won an illustration competition and began illustrating full-time. Her clients include The Quarto Group, Penguin Random House, Anorak Magazine, Usborne Publishing, Oxford University Press, SM Ediciones, and Smithsonian.

Key Information
- Eco-conscious and 100% recycled.
- Gently educational exploration of nature.
- Environmentally-friendly introduction to nature.
- Novelty board book with die-cuts.
The spider spins a thread called silk.

He can hang from the thread and climb back up it again.

With this silk, the spider will...
...build a beautiful web.

The web is the spider’s home.

It’s sticky, and is used to catch flies!
...build

They live on the dam in a cozy home called a lodge. What can you build?

a dam in the river.
Above and Below: Dusk till Dawn
Lift the flaps to see nature’s wonders unfold
Harriet Evans
Nic Jones

Discover nature at night in this beautiful split-page book. Travel from the woods at dusk to the lofty Himalayan Mountains, and learn all about the natural world which thrives after the sun goes down. This gently informative book is filled to the brim with fascinating facts about the animals and plants which exist in all kinds of climates and habitats. Split pages allow readers to explore each landscape in a uniquely immersive way - see which night-time wildlife can be found out in the open and which stays hidden within its shadowy habitat.

Vibrant and breathtaking illustrations by Nic Jones and enriching text by Harriet Evans make this the perfect gift for young nature lovers. The topic of nature at night is both unusual and enthralling, and the soft colours of the illustration make this the perfect bedtime read.

Author Details
Harriet Evans works in children's publishing and spends her days researching cool animal facts, imagining awesome adventures and drinking copious amounts of tea.

Nic lives in the beautifully cloudy North West of England and has 3 amazing children, who keep her on her toes. In 2019 she graduated with a First BA Animation and Illustration and in 2020 graduated with a Distinction PGCE Teaching Degree. Nic is currently busy with various illustration projects, which includes children's books, packaging and advertising Illustrations for reels, and just to keep herself extra busy she is studying a Master Degree in Illustration. Nic and her family love nature, long walks in the sun or rain and camping. This inspires her work; taking note of the colours, shapes and textures of nature has a real real influence on what Nic creates on a canvas.

Key Information
• Go on a night-time adventure in this gorgeous nature book, filled with amazing and astonishing facts.
• A fascinating introduction to nocturnal wildlife, a subject which is unusual and captivating.
• Also in this series: Above and Below, and Above and Below: Sea and Shore.
• Covers a wide range of settings, from the savannah and woodland to the river and city.
• Split pages reveal the hidden creatures who thrive at night.
• The perfect gift for budding nature enthusiasts.
The male deer sheds and regrows its antlers every year. Their size varies with the age of the deer, and increases annually over several years before reaching maximum size.

A nest is where a bird lays and incubates its eggs. They are often made of interwoven twigs and grass.

Woodpeckers use their hard, chisel-shaped beaks to carve holes out of tree trunks, where they make their nests.

Hedgehogs protect themselves from predators by curling up into a ball, leaving only their spikes exposed – a very effective deterrent!

Squirrels do not hibernate, but bury a good supply of nuts and seeds in the ground to see them through the winter.

A tree's roots can spread up to three times the height of the tree, obtaining water, oxygen, and minerals from the soil.

A toadstool is a fleshy fungus, with a cap and a stem.

Both male and female flowers are found on the same tree – making beech trees ‘monoecious’.

A toadstool is a fleshy fungus, with a cap and a stem. A bird's nest is where it lays and incubates its eggs. They are often made of interwoven twigs and grass. A red squirrel is a member of the thrush family. Most pairs of robins will produce three broods of chicks per year. Badgers are nocturnal, preferring to hunt for their favourite food – earthworms – at night. They can eat up to 200 earthworms every day!
The Forest

Forests are large areas of land covered with trees and woody vegetation. They are home to all kinds of wildlife, from tiny insects to nesting birds and rodents to ruminant mammals. Under the ground there is a maze of tree roots, burrows and warrens providing homes for many of the creatures.

tree roots
A tree’s roots can spread up to three times the height of the tree, obtaining water, oxygen, and minerals from the soil.

toadstool
A toadstool is a fleshy fungus, with a cap and a stem.

beech tree
Both male and female flowers are found on the same tree – making beech trees ‘monoecious’.

earthworm
A worm’s body is made up of ring-like segments called annuli. The worm’s mouth is in the first segment. As they burrow they consume soil, extracting nutrients as they go.

mole
Moles have long, curved claws enabling them to quickly dig long, adjoining tunnels underground. As they dig, they create little mounds of earth known as molehills.

rabbit
Rabbits live underground in a burrow. A group of burrows is called a warren. They are herbivores, which means that they eat plants. A female rabbit is called a doe and a male is called a buck. Baby rabbits are known as kits.

ant
Ants are sociable insects with a complex social structure – like bees, each ant has a specific role within the colony. Ants can lift up to 50 times their own bodyweight – that’s Herculean!
The Ocean

Oceans cover 71% of the Earth’s surface and they play a major part in our climate and weather systems. But did you know that more than 95% of the underwater world remains unexplored? That leaves plenty for us to discover!

flying fish
This species of fish has evolved to be able to ‘fly’ as a way of escaping from predators below the water.

crab
There are over 4,500 species of crab, living in both oceans and fresh water.

palm tree
As well as coconuts, different species of palm tree produce a wide variety of fruits.

starfish
Starfish don’t have brains or blood. If necessary, they can re-grow their limbs.

albatross
The albatross has the largest wingspan of any bird – up to 3.4m – and it can glide for hours without resting.

dolphin
Dolphins are very sociable creatures and use squeaks and whistles to communicate with each other.

loggerhead turtle
Females dig a hole in the sand, lay their eggs, then return to the sea. On hatching, the babies must fend for themselves.

coral
Coral reefs take millions of years to form. Coral organisms are actually translucent; they get their bright hues from the billions of colourful algae they host.

dolphin
Dolphins are very sociable creatures and use squeaks and whistles to communicate with each other.

loggerhead turtle
Females dig a hole in the sand, lay their eggs, then return to the sea. On hatching, the babies must fend for themselves.

crab
There are over 4,500 species of crab, living in both oceans and fresh water.

starfish
Starfish don’t have brains or blood. If necessary, they can re-grow their limbs.

albatross
The albatross has the largest wingspan of any bird – up to 3.4m – and it can glide for hours without resting.

dolphin
Dolphins are very sociable creatures and use squeaks and whistles to communicate with each other.

loggerhead turtle
Females dig a hole in the sand, lay their eggs, then return to the sea. On hatching, the babies must fend for themselves.

crab
There are over 4,500 species of crab, living in both oceans and fresh water.

starfish
Starfish don’t have brains or blood. If necessary, they can re-grow their limbs.

albatross
The albatross has the largest wingspan of any bird – up to 3.4m – and it can glide for hours without resting.

dolphin
Dolphins are very sociable creatures and use squeaks and whistles to communicate with each other.

loggerhead turtle
Females dig a hole in the sand, lay their eggs, then return to the sea. On hatching, the babies must fend for themselves.

crab
There are over 4,500 species of crab, living in both oceans and fresh water.

starfish
Starfish don’t have brains or blood. If necessary, they can re-grow their limbs.

albatross
The albatross has the largest wingspan of any bird – up to 3.4m – and it can glide for hours without resting.

dolphin
Dolphins are very sociable creatures and use squeaks and whistles to communicate with each other.
The Rainforest

There are two types of rainforest: temperate and tropical. The difference between rainforests and jungles is that the thick canopies of trees in rainforests block out light, whereas jungles let in more light. The Amazon is the world’s largest tropical rainforest.

sloth
Sloths sleep for 15–20 hours each day. They are so slow-moving that green algae grow on their furry coats!

monarch butterfly
These amazing creatures undertake a mass migration of up to 5,000km each winter, to fly to sunnier climes.

python
Pythons use chemical receptors in their tongues to stalk prey, which they are able to swallow whole.

leaves
Leaves form a vitally important part of the rainforest: its canopy, which houses a hugely diverse range of creatures.

powderpuff flower
This flower, blooming in winter and spring, attracts butterflies and hummingbirds.

alpinia flower
The alpinia flower is actually a member of the ginger family.

leaf-cutter ant
The leaf-cutter ant’s jaw vibrates at a rate of 1,000 times per second, allowing it to cut through leaves quickly.

toucan
Although famous for their colourful bills, toucans are not born with them – they develop as the toucan grows.

monarch butterfly
These amazing creatures undertake a mass migration of up to 5,000km each winter, to fly to sunnier climes.